NATALIE SCHENCK DIVORCED FROM GLENN COLLINS

Interlocutory Decree Granted by Justice Davis and Filed To-Day With Great Secrecy by Her Attorneys.

GALLANT CAPTAIN'S FUNDS GAVE OUT ON HONEYMOON.

Another International Romance Spotted When Each Found the Other Was Not Wealthy—Started for Trip Around World, but Reached Only Honolulu.

Under all the safeguards for secrecy possible under the law Parker, Hatch & Sheehan filed this afternoon an interlocutory decree of divorce in favor of Natalie Schenck Collins against Capt. Charles Glenn Collins, of the Cameron Highlanders, Justice Davis confirming the report and recommendation of Ernest J. Murphy, submitted six weeks ago.

Mrs. Collins is a noted society beauty, was a daughter of Mrs. Spottiswood Schenck, who lived at the Stratford, No. 11 East Thirty-second street, and a niece of George Gould, the first met Capt. Collins as Georgian Court, the house of George Gould at Lakewood. They met again at Gibraltar and became engaged. The wedding, which took place in California, was a brilliant affair, and their bridal tour was to circle the globe. They set out from San Francisco for Honolulu, but it ended there. Capt. Glenn's money gave out, it is said, and then they made the mutually painful discovery that neither had the wealth which the other supposed.

Two years ago the disappointed bride came home from Europe with her eight-month-old baby George to sue for a divorce.

A Stormy Honeymoon. The marriage of Captain Collins and Natalie Schenck took place in St. John's, Chateau, Monterey. The story of the subsequent three months of their married life was a stormy one. It included the interrupted trip to the Orient, a return to California, and a trip east to New York, a meeting by Captain Collins with a woman, and when he is said to have given a check for $200 with the funds to meet it, and a return of a loan of $100,000 from Reg.

At the conclusion of to-day's meeting Secretary Alexander Miller, of the Union Pacific, gave out the following statement: "Upon the call of President Harrison a meeting of the Board of Directors of the Union Pacific Railroad was held to-day. At his suggestion the question was considered of so placing the resources of other companies held by the Union Pacific that the beneficial interests therein should be secured to the stock and members of the syndicate which took the $75,000,000 convertible bonds issued by the company last summer as at odds as to how they should share in the distribution.

EXCHANGE "RULE" UPHELD BY U. S. COURT OF APPEAL

Bankrupt Mayer & Co. Colateral May Be Sold Despite Holt Decision. REVERSE LOWER COURT.

The United Circuit Court of Appeals this afternoon handed down an opinion, holding that Judge Holt, of the United States District Court, had no authority to issue an order restraining the banks and trust companies from disposing of collateral held by them to secure loans made to Mayer & Co., the suspended stock brokerage firm. It was held further that the original provisions of the loan agreement will stand, which will permit the banks to sell the collateral to protect the loans.

In the appointment of E. G. Benedict as receiver Judge Holt also issued the customary restraining order, which enjoined the members of the brokerage firm and all others holding assets in which the firm was interested from disposing of the same until so ordered by the Court. This prevented banks and trust companies holding stocks and bonds hypothecated by Mayer & Co. from selling them out under "the rule" of the Stock Exchange.

The depreciation of the stock market had wiped out the 20 per cent margin, it was contended, and it compelled to hold the stock and bonds until ordered by the Court severe losses would result.

Lawyer Thatcher, for the Chase National Bank, cited authorities to substantiate his position that the order should have been modified to permit selling the securities at the best price obtainable. Should there be a loss, he contended, the bankrupt, if charged with deficiency, would plead that had the stocks been sold out under the original agreement to a stockholder, the loss would have resulted.

Former Judge Cohen, appearing for the petitioning creditors, argued against the modification of the order, contending that a sale of the securities would result in a loss to the creditors, and that the stocks and bonds should be sold at the best price obtainable.

CUT BEQUEST OF $500,000 TO GIRL OUT OF HIS WILL

Millionaire Taylor Showed His Resentment of Miss Head's Marriage to Coachman. EXECUTED A CODICIL.

Rumored That Young Woman Obtained $500,000 in Private Settlement.

RIVERHEAD, L. I., Oct. 30.—The will of the late George C. Taylor, the wealthy and eccentric retired farmer, who died some time ago in his handsome home at Islip, was filed here to-day. The will disposes of an immense amount of money to a great many institutions, and also to relatives and workmen employed about the place.

Not one cent is left to Mrs. Lena Head Bodley, daughter of Mrs. Betsy Head, who was housekeeper for Mr. Taylor. Mrs. Head died shortly before Mr. Taylor, and although possessed of a small fortune, she cut off her daughter with a bequest of the last married Frederick W. Bodley, a coachman employed by Taylor.

In the original will Taylor left the young woman the income from $500,000 during her life, but when she married the coachman against the wishes of her mother and Taylor, the millionaire executed a codicil revoking the bequest to the girl.
